Senator Walsh Introduces Bill Carrying Appropriation of $450,000.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, February 7 -- Senator Walsh, of Montana, to-day introduced a bill giving the government absolute control of all radium-bearing ores in this country, and providing for free distribution of the radium to cancer victims through hospitals having spe-distribution of the radium to cancer victims through hospitals having special facilities and experts in the treatment of the disease.

Senator Walsh's hill provides that all deposits of carmotite, pitch blende or other radium-bearing ores in sufficient quantities for extraction, in lands belonging to the United States shall be subject to exploration occupation and purchase under the mining laws, upon the condition that the radium-bearing ores shall be exclusively sold and delivered to the United States.

All ores hereafter mired, not located under the laws of either the United States or any State, also must be sold to the United States.

The exclusive right is vested in the United States to purchase and receive the ores from owners and lessees, together with the right of the United States to enter upon lands patented, and mine, develop and remove such ores in the event the patentee or others fall to develop them, upon the payment to such persons of the market,

Captain William Norwood.

The funeral of Captain William Norwood, who died on Friday at the Retreat for the Sick, will be held this afternoon at 2:36 o'clock from St. Paul's Church, of which he was a member. The burial will be private.

Captain Norwood was seventy-seven years old. He volunteered in Company F. Twenty-first Virginia Infantry, and was wounded three times. He was captured at Petersburg, and was imprisoned in Old Capitol Prison, in Washington. He was later on the staff of General Thomas, of Georgia. For the past five years he had been an immate of Lee Camp Soldiers' Home.

Louis P, Sammani,

The funeral of Louis P. Sammani, a former resident of Richmond, was held on Friday morning from the Catholic Cathedral, Baltimore. The low miss of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Louis R. Stickney, chancellor-eject of the Archdiocese of Baltimore, and the interment was in Bonnie Brae Cemetery.

interment was in Bonnie Brac Cemetery.

Mr. Sammani died on Tuesday night at Hotel Kernan, where for several years he had been chief clerk. He was born in Richmond, but moved to Baltone when a young man. He was a hotel man of wide experience and ability, and was one of the best known men in Baltimore.

Mr. Sammani had been in ill health for more than a year, but his condition was not considered serious until three weeks ago. The final attack came after he had attempted to resume his dutles, and was again forced to take to his, bed. On Monday afternoon he began to sink, and the end came at so clock the following night. Death eases.

In addition to his work at Hotel Kernan, Mr. Sammani had been connected with the old Eutaw House and the St. James Hotel. He had also formed the Sammani Hotel Company, which controlled the new St. James Hotel. He had a wide circle of acquaintances among the theatrical profession, and numbered many well-known stars among his personal friends. Mr. Sammani is survived by his wife.

Mrs. Susan Blair Antrim.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Charlottesville, Va., February 7.—

Mrs. Susan Blair Antrim, aged seventyseven, wife of the late Edward M Antrim, died last night after a long illness. She was the great-granddaughter of the Rev. John Blair, D. D., who was one of the founders of Princeton Seminary, and its first professor of divinity. Her grandfather, Rev. John D. Blair, D. D., familiarly known as "Parson" Blair, was one of the pioneers of Presbyterianism in Virginia, being the first pastor of Grace Street Church, Richmond, and also chaplain of the Virginia House of Delegates. Mrs. Antrim was the youngest daughter of Samuel Jordan Blair and Elizabeth Truchart
Blair, and was born in Richmond, where she lived until her marriage. The period of her young womanhood was coincident with the dark days of the Civil War, and her reminiscences of life in the Confederate capital, where her beauty, wit and kindliness of heart made her a favorite in the social life of that time, were graphic and thrilling. Five children survive—Edward
